UNIT 6 How's You New Job, Hector?

Naomi: Hello, Mateo. Hi, Hector. Have a seat. I thought you might like a late-night snack. Hector: Thanks, Naomi. Mateo: You must be tired after your shift. Naomi: We just closed. Now I can really relax. That's better. By the way, how's your new job, Hector? Hector: I'm doing alright as a salesman, I guess. I make good sales commissions and Mr. Patel likes me for some reason. But I'm getting bored and restless, to be honest. It's too easy, if you know what I mean. Mateo: What's wrong with that? It is an easy job, but so what? You go to work, do your job, get a pay check. Hector: I just feel I could be doing something more. So, I applied for a job at the school's newspaper. Naomi: Wow, that's really ambitious. Do you really have time for two jobs? Hector: Well, I'd have to cut back on my hours at the store. Mr. Patel might not like that. He might fire me and then I'll be poor and then my parents will get mad and they'll kick me out and Mateo: Just tell Mr. Patel it'll get him some extra publicity. Tell him you're going to write a news article about him. He won't fire you. He'll love you even more Naomi: Mateo's right. Everything will be fine. If that's what you want to do, you should go for it. Mateo: You just have to balance the pros and cons of it. Naomi: Here. I have an idea. Imagine that this glass is your life as a salesman. These chocolates are the pros—the advantages—of working in the store. Now, what are the pros of your job? Hector: Well, I like working in the store because... I like working with Mateo. I get discounts on lots of nice clothes. And... that's it. I can't think of anything else. Naomi: Okay, now this glass represents the opportunities of working at a newspaper. What are the pros of that? Hector: Well, it would be a lot more interesting than working in a clothing store. I would get to go different places. I would learn lots of new things. I would meet a lot more interesting people. And I would be getting paid for it. And, it could even lead to a career.

Naomi: Working at the store full time, getting a job at the newspaper. I think the choice is clear.

Mateo: Naomi is right. If you get another job at the newspaper, it'll be hard. You'll have to work a lot of extra hours. But you can do it. Hector: Thanks, you guys. The choice is obvious, like you said, Naomi.

Naomi: Chocolate solves everything.
