UNIT 6 What Could Go Wrong?

Mrs. Sanchez: Oh, I'm so excited. I've never ordered anything online before. And groceries? Can you imagine how much time we'll save? We won't ever have to go to the grocery store again! Mr. Sanchez: For the first time, let's just order a couple of things—to make sure it works. Mrs. Sanchez: But what could go wrong? Come on, Victor. Everybody uses the internet to buy things. We have to keep up with the times, dear. Mr. Sanchez: I know, I know. I just want to make sure it works. Later, when we're used to it, we can try it again. Mrs. Sanchez: Alright, if it makes you feel better. Let's get started! Look in the refrigerator and tell me what we need. Mr. Sanchez: We need some milk. Mrs. Sanchez: How much? Mr. Sanchez: A gallon. Mrs. Sanchez: What else? Mr. Sanchez: How about a gallon of juice? Mrs. Sanchez: Oh, good idea. Hector likes to drink juice every morning. What about eggs and butter? Mr. Sanchez: Miriam, let's not buy too many things. Like I said, I just want to buy a few things this first time. Mrs. Sanchez: But Victor, we have to spend at least twenty dollars. That's the minimum amount. So far we've only spent three dollars. Mr. Sanchez: You mean a gallon of juice and a gallon of milk is only three dollars? Mrs. Sanchez: I guess everything is cheaper on the internet. Look in the cupboard. Mr. Sanchez: Alright, alright. Do you think we need more tomato sauce? Mrs. Sanchez: Yes, I always need tomato sauce. I'll get two cans. What about rice? Do we have any rice? Mr. Sanchez: No, we're almost out of rice. Mrs. Sanchez: OK, one bag of rice. That's it. We've spent twenty dollars. Mr. Sanchez: Wait a second. A gallon of juice and a gallon of milk came to three dollars. You mean that two cans of tomato sauce and a bag of rice came to seventeen dollars? Mrs. Sanchez: Oh, who knows how these things work, Victor? Prices are different on the internet. Mr. Sanchez: I guess you're right. Just submit the order. Mrs. Sanchez: Your order has been submitted, sir. Your groceries will be delivered by 5 p.m. How exciting! We just made our first online purchase! Now all we have to do is sit back and wait. Mr. Sanchez: I have a funny feeling about this. Mrs. Sanchez: Just relax, honey. Everything will be fine. Mrs. Sanchez: Oh! That must be the delivery person. Go get our groceries, dear! Mr. Sanchez: Well, here's your rice. Do you think we have enough rice? Mrs. Sanchez: What happened? I did not order that much rice. Mr. Sanchez: Well, that's what they brought. Maybe it was a mistake. Let's see what else we got. Here's the milk. I thought we ordered a gallon of milk? Mrs. Sanchez: So did I. I did not order a pint of milk. I ordered a gallon of milk. Mr. Sanchez: We didn't order a pint of juice, either. We ordered a gallon of juice. And look at this. Two cans of tomato sauce. Two very large cans of tomato sauce. Miriam, what happened? Mrs. Sanchez: Well, I clicked on the picture of the milk and I clicked on the picture of the juice. And then I clicked on the picture of the rice, and then I clicked twice on the picture of the tomato sauce. Mr. Sanchez: Miriam, I think you forgot to check the sizes of all these things. Mrs. Sanchez: Oh Victor, I think you're right. I just clicked on the pictures without checking the sizes. Mr. Sanchez: Now do you see why I wanted to be careful? Mrs. Sanchez: Well, I learned my lesson. Shopping online isn't as easy as I thought. From now on, I will be more careful. Oh, but what am I going to do with all this tomato sauce?
