READ SARAH'S EMAIL. HOW DOES SARAH FEEL ABOUT MARIA'S VISIT?

Re: plans for your visit

From: Sarah Gold

To: Maria

Hi, Maria!
I'm excited to see you next month!
What do you want to do when you get here on Friday? I'm working that day, so I'm busy in the afternoon. But my sister Ana is free, and she's looking forward to seeing you again. Why don't you two meet at the Royal Ontario Museum? I can meet you both there after work. Then we can have dinner. There's a great Korean restaurant near the museum. I can make a reservation. On Saturday, let's go on a tour of the city.
We can go sightseeing in the morning and later do some souvenir shopping, too. I'm sure you'd like to buy some gifts for your family. Afterward, I'd love to see a play. Would you? I can try to get tickets for Saturday night.
On Sunday, why don't we take a walk by the river before you leave? We can get some brunch, too.
Let me know what you'd like to do. I can't wait to see you!
Sarah

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF SARAH'S SUGGESTIONS? WHAT THINGS WOULD YOU OR WOULDN'T YOU LIKE TO DO?

Have your Ss do the task in breakout rooms. Then check the answers in class.

2 FOCUS ON WRITING

WRITING SKILL Use transition words for time

Transition words for time can show when something happened. Use these words to make your writing clearer. Then the reader will know the order events happened.

Transition words for time include: while, after, when, during, next, then, so far, later, soon, sometimes, afterward, following, whenever, etc.

Look at this example: I went to the store. Then I had some lunch. Later, I went to the library. While I was at the library, I saw José.

B Reread Sarah's email. Underline all the transition words for time.
