

StartUp 4
Writing

Unit5 – Lesson5
Page62

WHAT ARE SOME OF YOUR FAVORITE FOODS? WHAT DO YOU LIKE ABOUT THEM?

Have Ss read the task and answer the questions. Then elicit their answers in class.

Have Ss skim the text again and do the task. Then check the answers in class.

READ MEHMET'S FOOD BLOG.

WHAT FOODS DOES HE WRITE ABOUT?

Food of the week: Korean

April 2 by Mehmet Bodur–15 comments

Korean food is one of my favorites, and there are several great Korean restaurants in my neighborhood. I wanted to share with you a couple of new dishes I discovered.

The first dish is kal-gook-soo. This is a noodle soup that comes in a variety of flavors. The noodles are what make the dish so special. They are long, thick noodles, similar to the width and thickness of fettuccini noodles in Italian cooking. Kal-gook-soo noodles taste best when they're fresh, so most restaurants make their own noodles. That's what makes them so good! The broth is made of vegetable, seafood, or chicken broth, depending on which flavor you choose. My favorite is the spicy chicken. Eating a bowl of spicy chicken kal-gook-soo makes any cold winter day feel warm and cozy.

Another dish I recently discovered is seafood pa-jeon. Pa in Korean means scallion, and jeon is a kind of pancake, but with meats and vegetables in it. Instead of pancake batter, pa-jeon uses a flour mix. And instead of breakfast, this is usually served as an appetizer. The seafood pa-jeon includes a variety of seafoods and scallions mixed into the flour mix. The batter is then fried in vegetable oil until the outside is slightly crispy. Delicious!

Try these two dishes the next time you're at a Korean restaurant. You'll thank me!

Have Ss do the task in breakout rooms.

C PAIRS Based on Mehmet's descriptions, would you try these two dishes? Why or why not?

Food of the week: Korean

April 2 by Mehmet Bodur–15 comments

Korean food is one of my favorites, and there are several great Korean restaurants in my neighborhood. I wanted to share with you a couple of new dishes I discovered.

The first dish is kal-gook-soo. This is a noodle soup that comes in a variety of flavors. The noodles are what make the dish so special. They are long, thick noodles, similar to the width and thickness of fettuccini noodles in Italian cooking. Kal-gook-soo noodles taste best when they're fresh, so most restaurants make their own noodles. That's what makes them so good! The broth is made of vegetable, seafood, or chicken broth, depending on which flavor you choose. My favorite is the spicy chicken. Eating a bowl of spicy chicken kal-gook-soo makes any cold winter day feel warm and cozy.

Another dish I recently discovered is seafood pa-jeon. Pa in Korean means scallion, and jeon is a kind of pancake, but with meats and vegetables in it. Instead of pancake batter, pa-jeon uses a flour mix. And instead of breakfast, this is usually served as an appetizer. The seafood pa-jeon includes a variety of seafoods and scallions mixed into the flour mix. The batter is then fried in vegetable oil until the outside is slightly crispy. Delicious!

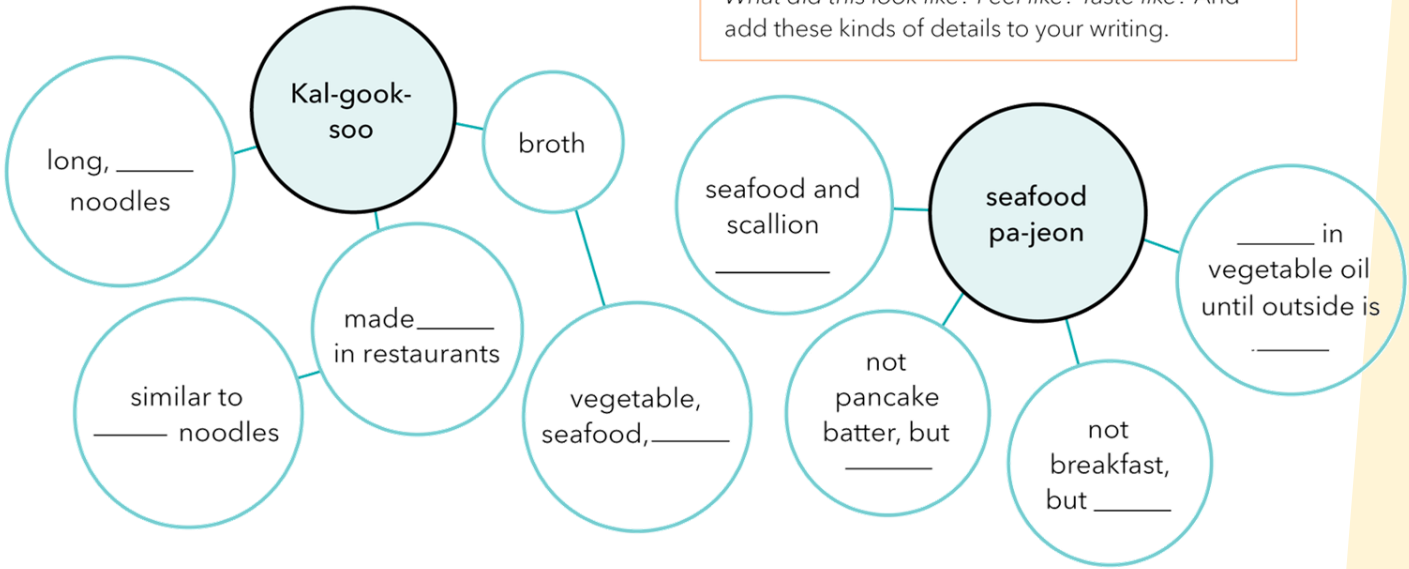

Try these two dishes the next time you're at a Korean restaurant. You'll thank me!

2 FOCUS ON WRITING

WRITING SKILL Use specific details

When you use specific, clear details in your writing, you can create mental images in the minds of your readers. Ask yourself questions such as: What did this look like? Feel like? Taste like? And add these kinds of details to your writing.

Read the Writing Skill. Then read Mehmet's food blog again. Take notes in the chart.

3 PLAN YOUR WRITING

Think of your favorite foods. Look at the model and type your sentences in the public chat.

Korean food is one of my favorites, and there are several great Korean restaurants in my neighborhood. I wanted to share with you a couple of new dishes I discovered.

Teach the model to the Ss and ask them to personalize it in the public chat.

3 PLAN YOUR WRITING

Think of your favorite foods. Look at the model and type your sentences in the public chat.

The first dish is kal-gook-soo. This is a noodle soup that comes in a variety of flavors. The noodles are what make the dish so special. They are long, thick noodles, similar to the width and thickness of fettuccini noodles in Italian cooking. Kal-gook-soo noodles taste best when they're fresh, so most restaurants make their own noodles. That's what makes them so good! The broth is made of vegetable, seafood, or chicken broth, depending on which flavor you choose. My favorite is the spicy chicken. Eating a bowl of spicy chicken kal-gook-soo makes any cold winter day feel warm and cozy.

Teach the model to the Ss and ask them to personalize it in the public chat.

3 PLAN YOUR WRITING

Think of your favorite foods. Look at the model and type your sentences in the public chat.

Another dish I recently discovered is seafood pa-jeon. Pa in Korean means scallion, and jeon is a kind of pancake, but with meats and vegetables in it. Instead of pancake batter, pa-jeon uses a flour mix. And instead of breakfast, this is usually served as an appetizer. The seafood pa-jeon includes a variety of seafoods and scallions mixed into the flour mix. The batter is then fried in vegetable oil until the outside is slightly crispy. Delicious!

Teach the model to the Ss and ask them to personalize it in the public chat.

3 PLAN YOUR WRITING

Think of your favorite foods. Look at the model and type your sentences in the public chat.

Try these two dishes the next time you're at a Korean restaurant. You'll thank me!

Teach the model to the Ss and ask them to personalize it in the public chat.

afaq
TALK ABOUT THE FOODS.
Create breakout rooms and have the Ss do the task.
5148
www://
afaq-lc.com

Read the directions aloud. Then have Ss complete the task as homework.

Write a post using your information from 3A.
Remember to give specific, clear details.
Use the post in 1B as a model.

Check your
- spelling
- punctuation
- capitalization