3 PRONUNCIATION

A 02-02 Read and listen to the pronunciation note.

Stress in compound adjectives

Compound adjectives are made up of more than one word, such as high-level. When a noun follows the compound adjective, stress the first word more strongly than the second word: It's a part-time job. When the compound adjective is not followed by a noun, we usually don't stress the first word, and the hyphen is dropped: The job is part time.

3 PRONUNCIATION

B 02-03 Listen. Notice the stressed word in the examples. Then listen and repeat.

It's a well-known company. The company is well known.

Play the audio. Have your Ss listen do the task. Check the answers and have them repeat chorally and individually.

3 PRONUNCIATION

C ▶02-04 Listen. Circle the stressed words in the compound adjectives.

1. Many part-time jobs aren't well paid.
2. It's a one-year program at a world-famous school.
3. She's working full time, in an entry-level position.
4. He signed a short-term, two-week contract.

Ask your students to make sentences using the phrases. Check their pronunciation and give feedback.
